Recapts of wheat last week, were heavy but not quite equal to those of the previous one. Including flour, the receipts for the week ending Saturday noon, were nearly three hundred and seventy thousand bushels, namely, 19,449 bals of flour, and 316 243 bush-1s of wheat. Shipments were 12,135 barrels of flour, and 485,842 bushels of wheat, equivalent to upwards of half a million bushers-the largest amount of wheat ever shipped from this post in one week .-Since 8-pt-order 1st, we have shipped 60,823 barrels of flour and 1,692,639 bushels of wheat, equal, in the aggregate, to 1,942,745 bash is, against 35,429 barrels of flour, and 1,050 054 bushels of wheat, equal, in the aggregate, to 1,232,109 bushels, for the correspending period in 1858. Since January 1st our shipments of wheat amount to 3,802,392 bushels, against 4,708,206 for the same time in 1858; so that the deficit against this year, which but a little while ago amounted to nearly a million and a half bushels, is now reduced to 903,914 bushels. At this rate it is possible that our shipments may yet reach, and even exceed those of last year.

Sixth Senate District.

A call for a Republican Convention to nomi-Senate District appears in our columns this morning. This District comprises the Third, Fourth, Fifth, and Eighth Wards of the City and the towns of Wanwatosa, Greenfield, Franklin, Oak Creek and Lake. Each Town and Ward is requested to send three delegates to the Convention. We invoke our Republican friends in the District to take early measures to bring a first-rate candidate into the held and to rally their full strength at the polls on the eighth of November.

An Supeal to Prejudice.

Saturday makes a desporate appeal to prejudice. It seeks to array Milwaukee against the rest of the State and urges the electors of this city to vote against Gov. RANDALL, as an "enemy to Milwaukes" and a "runner for Chicago." The charge is as ridiculous and unfounded, as the appeal is wanton and suicidal. It is from no love for Milwaukee, that the News adopts this line of argument, but in the vain hope of manufacturing a little political capital out of this base material. In order to do so, the News puts into Gov. RANDALL's month language that he never used: attributes to him sentiments that he never entertained, or expressed; misrepresents the motives by which he has been governed; and falsifies the course which he has invariably pursued. Such an attack, so wholly unfounded and inexcusable, will recoil, with a vengeance, upon its authors.

The News bases its charge against Gov RANDALL upon his strong protest against the inrisdiction exercised and the gractice followed by Judge Miller's Court in this State. What Gov. R. said about the oppressive nature of that practice a d jurisdiction, almost every business man in the State knows to be true; for, in the hard times of the past two years, a large number of them have felt its fangs. But it is not Milwaukee alone that has suffered from it. The whole State has been more, or less victimized. And Gov. RANDALL referred to this city, as an illustration for all Wisconsin, of the oppressive yolle which this U. S. Court has imposed. The pretence that Gov. RANDALL is hostile to the business interests of this city, or that he has decried and disparaged Milwaukee for the sake of setting up Chicago, is as palpably absurd, as it is wickedly false. It only shows to what extremes the partisans of pro-slavery democracy are divided, in their desparate attempts to stem that strong tide of Popular Sentiment which in this, as in other Free States, is bearing onward the REPUBLICAN bank to an assured victory.

The Randal, Harvey and Hastings have all been then filed as Koow-Nothings, and every foreigner who wates for any of the three, will be voting away his own liberty.—Sparta Democrat. ilberty.—Sparka Demograt.
The above is a fint specimen of the Bemogratic present this State. They have no argument left but this state, thread-bare, silly lie. There is not a man on the Republican taker who is not piedged against the principles of Rauw-Sobhingson, and two of the candidates are of foreign barin.—Buttern Journal.

To this may be added, that the most rabid and reckless opponents of Gov. RANDALL and the Republican theket in this State, are and editors of defunct Know-Nothing papers -as witness the daily ravilings of "A. Will-LINGTON HART," quondam editor of the Milwaukee . Imerican, in the congenial columns of the Know-Nothing News. The "dodge" of stigmatising the Republican candidates as Know-Nothings was fully "tried on," last week, in Minnesota. How it pros-

Then began the great work which, after all aspects, now takes its prominent place among the most momentous achievements in the West. The important event of opening this thoroughfare has been fitly observed, in manner as follows:

All the hotels "jam full

The Committee of Arrangements, in behalf of the citizens of Fond du Lac, provided for all who were the invited guests of the Railroad, free of charge: and when the hotels could hold no more, we were packed away in private houses and churches. It fell to my lot to get room to indulge in a horizontal position, at Plymouth Church, where a huudred or so of us went to sleep, "after the revel was done," as quick as if a person

All who had tickets of invitation to the excursion, were admitted to the ball free, so there was nat a sufficient general acquaintance among those attending, to relieve it of awkwardness. And then some of the Cadets who were quite soldierly in the street, at the ball reminded me of supernumeraries in the grand ball of the capulets. The music was by the Light Guard Band, of Chicago, and was as fine as ever I heard in a ball room. Armory Hall has, without question, the most elegantly finished interior of any hall in the State, and is one of the largest and loftiest.

The main expense of the whole affair, as far as Fond du Lac was concerned, was defrayed by her own citizens, and their endeavors, for the most part, showed excellent taste.

A large number of the excursionists left the next morning for Chicago, and that way. More than half, however, occupying sixteer cars, proceeded on to Oshkosh, starting at the same time with those going back. Our long train rolled into the busy city of Oshkosh, the terminus of the road, at half

The Oshkosh people complain of unfairness on the part of the Railroad officials, in giving them scarcely any notice, and none that could be relied on, as to when the celebration should come off. For this reason no provision was made in Oshkosh for such a reception of the visitors as her citizens would pered, let the returns tell. So will it fare have taken pride in extending to them.

AN ELOPEMENT AND RECOVERY.—Some two mouths since, a gentleman and lady took up their residence in Rutland, in this county, up their residence in Rutland, in this county, as man and wife. The gentleman commenced the practice of medicine, and for a time was prosperous and evidently happy; when, about two weeks ago, a man named Kirkpatrick, from Butler county; Ohio, presented himself and claimed the woman as his lawful wife, took possession of her and bore her off against her will, the Doctor pursuing on horseback. On coming up with his paramour, he was allowed to kiss and take a format and affectionate leave of her, and Mr. Kirkpatrick, with his faithless and resisting spouse, came to his faithless and resisting spouse, came to the Capitol House for the night. THE POLITICAL DISCUSSION.

Appointments for this Week. GOV. RANDALL and his competitor, Mr. HOBART, are to address the people, during the present week, at the following places:

The committees of the two parties will make the necessary arrangements at each point and give due notice of the time and place of meeting. They speak in this city on Thursday, probably in the evening, at Albany Hall. We invite our fellow-citizens of all For Capital colargement...... parties to bear the appointment in mind and to come and listen to the two candidates.

The Discussions at Beloit and Janesville. GOT- RANDALL and Mr. HOHART met in discussion at Beloit on Wednesday, and at Janesville on Thursday last. At Beloit, the Janesville Gazette says:

Janesville Gazette Says:

"The discussion was opened by Gov. Randall in a speech of an hour in length, in which he spoke mainly on national politics. He showed up the principle of squatter severeignty in all its beauties and deformitles, and with such arguments as at lesst convinced the crewd that he had the right side of the subject. Ho hart spoke in a hour and a half speech, in a kind of rambing discourse, asserting that he was a better free soiler than Randall, and that popular sovereignty was the state expenses, d la Pump, declaring the enormous caxes to the outraceous, &c., &c. Randall followed for half in hour and proved the taxes to have been made to pay D-mocratic Indebtedness. The result was that he carried the people by storm, leaving poor II.

devoted his first hour to National politics, insisting there, as at Beloit, that he and the Democrats were letter Free-Soilers, and stronger Anti-Slavery men, than the Republicans, and that "Squatter Sovereignty," which allows Stavery to go anywhere, was a more effectual barrier against the "peculiar will be amply sufficient to meet all more effectual barrier against the 'peculiar with all barrier against the 'peculiar with a many of the salaries and leave a balance on land to pay inabilities, and leave a balance on land to pay the salaries due at that time.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL D. HASTINGS, reply, showed up most effectually the absurdity and inconsistency of this view of the Slavery question; gave a clear and satisfacread that portion of Mr. FACING-BOTH-WAYS' that the Republicans had charged against issues of the campaign: "Barstow and the Balance." Hereupon Mr. Viraqua Springville, Springville, Springville, tingly said:

"I now propose to read my remarks at Hericon, queted by the Governor, although I have no taste for reading my own productions. I made that speech, but did not intend to admit the truth of the report of the investigating committee. I intended to leave the mat-2:r uthere it stood. I did not regard Barstow's admin-istration as on trial, while I did that of Gov. Randall.

The action of the Republican Conven I did not intend to cover up any frauds committed by anybody. I did not suppose I was obliged to carry a pail and brush to whitewast the vins of everybody. That part of the speech referring to Bushford, I do not propose to change in any particular. The committees set an ecl pot to catch Democrats, and caught seventeen of their own number. I seek not to shield dow. Parstow, or any one upon whom frands have been integrity entertained by the balance of the country which, compose the District. And anybods. I did not suppose I was obliged to carry a pail and brush to whitewash the sins of everybody. proven; or to judge of them; or to re-open the investi-gation. Let the public judgment pass upon them, and

This "lame and impotent" speech was delivered in a confused and awkward manner; the speaker being not a little embarrassed by the presence of Gov. Barstow and his friends Judging from their appearance, when Mr. Hobart said that he declined carrying "a pail and brush to whitewash their sins," the Guzette thinks that the explanation of Mr. PACING-BOTH-WAYS was anything but satisfactory. The Gazette, in conclusion says: We will say that the public impression here is that Governor Randall is too much for Mr. Hobart, and that the latter continually loses ground in the contest,

The Democracy Selling under a "Piratical Fiag."

The National of Saturday has a long leadthe Slavery question, from which we take two extracts:

IWO extracts:

Within the has two years, a faction under the head of Senator Douglas, have been making desperate efforts a mid-cad be people, and in distance the bencerast people. Mr. Douglas are the trace of the senator Company of the later that the repeal of the bencerast against that the next of the people of the benchmarks and his began of the Presidency the blotted. He missed the monitarin at Cincinnati which he calculated on as a reward for his services for throwing the Territories open to slavery.

In order to resuscitate himself in the North, he holsted the plantical flag of Spuntter Scientific in the State.

The effort of Mr. Douglas' followers in this State to put a construction upon those resolutions in favor of squatter Sover ignity, is presuming much upon the ignorance and guiltility of the people. It is an increosable design on the part of political factionists, to distract the party.

Now Mr. HOBART and every other candidate on the Democratic State ticket has followed the lead of Mr. DougLas and "hoisted the piratical flag of Squatter Sovereignty." They all sail, openly and avowedly, under that "flag." They all put the same forced "construction" upon the Cincinnati resolutions that Mr. Douglas does. They all like him, repudiate the doctrine of President Bu-CHANAN and Attorney General BLACK. And they all, too, presume "upon the ignorance and gullibility of the People," to sustain themselves in their position, and are amenable to the National's charge of a "factious" design "to distract the party" for the benefit of Mr. Douglas. Yet the National, which represents and claims to support the Administration, strikes hands with the "factionists," and is enlisted under "the piratical flag! of Douglas, Hobart & Co.

RATHER COMPLIMENTARY .- The News of Saturday, thus refers to the straight-forward, decided and independent course of GOVERNOR RANDALL:

Since the days of Jackson we have not known a man so self-reliant, equal to the emergency, no matter what the emergency may be, as Alexander W. Randail, the present Governor of Wisconsin.

It is very certain that we have never yet had a Governor of Wisconsin, who has so as appointed in his place? clearly proved his fitness for the post, and so resolutely pursued the strict path of duty, as Propie.

" DRAWING IT MILD "-The News' K. A Chest Story.

From the Boston Traveller, 10th. Mr. Heeter M'Donald, of Canada, was recently on a visit to Boston. When he left home his family were enjoying good health, and he anticipated a pleasant journey. The second morning after his arrival in Boston, when leaving his bed to dress for breakfast believe reflected in a mirror the corress of a RENOSHA WATER CURE

E. D. Seeley is the attending physician, whose the corpse, but in vain; he could not even move his eyelids; he felt deprived of action, for how long he knew not. He was at last startled by the ringing of the bell for breakfast and sprang to the lead to satisfy himself if what he had seen reflected in the mirror was real or an illusion. He found tha bed as he had left it, he looked again in to the mirror, but only saw the bed truly retha bed as he had left it, he looked again into the mirror, but only saw the bed truly reflected. During the day he thought much upon the illusion, and determined next morning to rub his eyes and feel perfectly sure that he was wide-awake before he left bed. But notwithstanding these precautions, the vision was repeated with this addition, that he thought he recognized in the corpse some resemblance to the features of his wife. In the course of the second day he received a letter from his wife, in which she stated that she was quite well, and honed he was ed a letter from his wife, in which she stated that she was quite well, and hoped he was enjoying himself among his friends. As he was devotedly attached to her, and always anxious for her safety, he supposed that his morbid fears had conjured up the vision he had seen reflected in the glass, and went about his business as cheerfully as usual.—On the morning of the third day, after he had dressed, he found himself in thought in his own house, leaving over the coffin of his wife. His friends were assembled, the minister was performing the funerat services. wile. His friends were assembled, the min-ister was performing the funeral services, his children wept—he was in the house of death. He followed the corpse to the grave; he heard the earth rumble upon the coffin, he saw the grave filled and the green sods covered over it; yet, by some strange power, he could see through the ground the entire form of his wife as she lay in her coffin form of his wife as she lay in her coffin. He looked in the faces of those around him, but no one seemed to notice him; he tried to weep, but the tears refused to flow; his very heart felt as hard as a rock. En-raged at his own want of feeling, he deter-mined to throw himself upon the grave and lie there till hif heart should break, when he was recalled to consciousness by a friend who entered the room to inform him tha who entered the room to inform him that breakfast was ready. He started as if awok-from a profound sleep, though he was standng before the mirror with a hair-brush in his hand.

After composing himself, he related to his friend what he had seen, and both concluded that a good breakfast was only wanting to dissipate his unpleasant impressions. A few days afterwards, however, he received the melancholy intelligence that his wife had melancholy intelligence that his wife had alied suddenly, and the time corresponded with the day he had been startled by the first vision in the mirror. When he returned home he described minutely all the details of the funeral he had seen in his vision, and they correspond with the facts. This is probably one of the most vivid instances of clair-voyance on record. Mr. McDonald knows nothing of modern sprittless or clairver.

On the Caltivation of Orchards.

R. C. Overman writes as follows in the Among all the objects that constitute the charm of rural life, the orchard stands pre-eminent. It is the most cherished spot pre-eminent. It is the most cherished spot on the farm—the treasure house in which is garnered nature's choicest offering to her dependent children. To the young and guileless it is a cherished retreat, where, perhaps, for the first time, the spontaneous gusl of gratitude to the Bountiful Giver may have thrilled the soul. The generous impulses there formed in the heart of a child will be with him through life. Should his J ted at current rates of Exchange. N. Y.; Wis. Refer to American Exchange Sank N. Y.; Wis. will go with him through life. Should his feblob-boul. ot in after life be east among strangers, in a ar off land, how often will memory revert to he cherished scenes of his "life's morning narch," and fancy repaint vivid pictures

The orchard, the meadow, the deep tangled wild wood And every loved spot which his infancylinew." But around the orchard will his memory most love to linger, for it was there he reveled in all the Ifulness of joy. There the quintessence of beauty gladdened his eye, and the perfection of aroma delighted his palate. What wonder then that he paid such incere yet unconscious devotion at Pomo no's shrine.

Parents plant orchards, if only to instill into the hearts of their offspring a deeper love of home, to centralize their affections, to counteract the nomadic spirit of the age.—

Convince them by argument, at once poten-tial and pleasing, that "there's no place like home." In a word, do all you can to make their home attractive, and he assured that they will be less inclined to wander from the they will be less inclined to wander from the paternal roof in quest of forbidden joys.

Without extending the preface, we now proceed to offer a few practical thoughts on location, planting and culture of orchards, presuming that additional information on such subjects may be acceptable to the public mind. In treating of the orchard in general, we would be understood as referring to the applicaction of the applicaction of the applicaction. ple as the essential element of the orchard, proper. Though other fruits are sometimes reckoned "in," the apple is acknowledged monarch, and of him we treat.

monarch, and of him we treat.

In locating an orchard, the first object, and a most important one, is to select an eligible situation. An elevated or rolling situation is greatly to be preferred, and if the aspect is northern, all the better; but as such a site is not always to be obtained, yet a level or less propitious one may be rendered nearly equivalent by thorough underdraining and subsoiling. Indeed, this system of preparing orchard ground, whether high or low, cannot be too strongly recommended, for, though its need upon high ground is not so absolute as need upon high ground is not so absolute as upon low, yet all situations, high or low, will be greatly benefitted by it. It is worthy of remark that the best natural situations for orchards to be found in the country are in the "barrens" and the timber, on the clayer ridges and gravelly slopes. On such localities we have generally found the hardiest and most productive orchard trees.

The proprietor should elect the most eligible store on his premises for the orchard, and ble spot on his premises for the orchard, and what it lacks by nature he must endeavor to make up by art. Whether the ground be un-derdrained or not, the deep plowing or sub-soiling should in no case be dispensed with:

soiling should in no case be dispensed with. Perhaps the most effectual way to do this is as follows: Use two strong teams; with the first a number Soid ground plow, set to run as deep as it can be drawn; with the second team use a number 5, com plow, set also to run deep; follow with it in the furrow made by the first team at a brisk walk, and you will throw up the subsoil and deposit it upon the surface.

In this way we have sometimes trench plowed near twenty inches deep; but it requires stout toams, and bright, scouring plows. The Fall previous to planting is the time to do this, but if it has been neglected, it is better to do it in the Spring than omit it altogether, for no opportunity for thoroughly subsoiling the orchard ground is ever afterwards expected to occur. Another method of subsoiling is to break up the subsoil as deeply as possible, and let it lie without burning it up. For this purpose the Michigan double or subsoil plow is used.—The ground being thus thoroughly prepared The ground being thus thoroughly prepared let it lie so till time to set the trees.—Prairie
